

Customer fees for early childhood education and care 1.8.2026

The fees charged for early childhood education and care are determined according to the Act on Client Fees in Early Childhood Education and Care. A fixed monthly fee is charged for early childhood education and care, which is determined according to the family's income, the number of family members and the selected monthly service hour limit.

The fee is charged for a maximum of eleven calendar months during the operating year (1.8.-31.7). Provided that municipal early childhood education has started no later than in August of the current operating year, the month of July is free of charge.

In order to determine the fee, the family must submit income information by the end of the month of starting in early childhood education, otherwise the fee will be charged according to the highest. The fee is adjusted after the submission of income information from the beginning of the following calendar month. Income information does not need to be submitted if the customer fee can be charged according to the highest. Families can choose this option directly in eDaisy.

From 1 August 2026, the national Incomes Register is used to determine client fees in the City of Kemi unless the family has chosen the highest fee category.

Income

The taxable earnings and capital income of a child, parent or other guardian living in the same household, and his or her spouse or person living in marriage-like circumstances, as well as tax-free income, is considered as income. Vacation allowance of 5% is added to salary income.

The child's guardians report changes in the family (divorce, common-law separation, marriage, cohabitation, a child in the family turns 18, a child is born in the family) directly to the early childhood education invoicing by email at varhaiskasvatusmaksut@kemi.fi.

The family is obliged to report if the family's income changes substantially. If the decision to impose the fee was based on incorrect information provided by the customer, the fee can be retrospectively adjusted for a period of up to one year.

Collecting the customer fee

The child's early childhood education hours are booked according to the agreed monthly service hour limit. If the hours booked and/or the hours used exceed the agreed limit, the fee is determined according to the fee level at which the hours booked and overspent are placed. If the hours are below the agreed limit, there will be no refund in the fee.

For questions related to customer fees, you can contact invoicing by e-mail at varhaiskasvatusmaksut@kemi.fi. Invoices for early childhood education are enforceable. Invoicing takes place monthly in arrears.

If the child's early childhood education begins in the middle of the calendar month, a decision on payment is made to start on the same day as the care agreement begins. Invoicing takes into account that early childhood education has started or ended in the middle of the calendar month. Parents are responsible for the termination of an early childhood education place through eDaisy at least two weeks before the last day of care.

If the child is absent from early childhood education for more than ten days during a calendar month due to illness, half of the monthly fee will be charged. If the absence due to illness lasts the entire calendar month, no fee is charged at all. The fee is also not charged for the days the child is absent from early childhood education during paternity benefit periods. If the child is absent from early childhood education for another reason for the entire calendar month, half of the monthly fee will be charged. Otherwise, the full monthly fee will always be charged.

The customer fee is calculated as a percentage of the family's gross income. The highest day-care fee is 335 €/month for the youngest child, 134 €/month (40%) for the second child and 20% of the youngest child's fee for the other children in the family.

The payment percentages, minimum and maximum gross income limits are as follows:

| 3           | 5635                         | 10.7               | 8765                                 |

If the size of the family is greater than 6, the income limit on which the payment is based is increased by 295 euros for each additional underage child in the family.

Payment Steps for Time-Based Care in Early Childhood Education

| Booked early childhood education time in hours/month | Care fee % of full-day care fee |
|------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------|
| 1–60                                                 | 35 %                            |
| 61–90                                                | 55 %                            |
| 91–110                                               | 70 %                            |
| 111–139                                              | 85 %                            |
| 140 or more                                          | 100 %                           |

Example: The gross income of a family of four is 7 000 €/month. The minimum income limit (see table above) of 6 399 € is deducted from the gross income, which results in 601 €, of which 10.7% is 64 €, which is the childcare fee for the youngest child if the child's childcare contract is 140 hours or more.

If the income is less than the minimum gross income limit or if the fee per child is less than 32 €, the fee is not charged. The fee for temporary care is 15 €/day for each child.

In addition to free pre-primary education (4 h/day), the client fee for supplementary early childhood education is a maximum of 85% (111–139 h) of the fee for full-time early childhood education. Free pre-primary education is taken into account in client fees from the beginning of August.
